

Ted Greene

Playing before a group of about 15 guitarists at the North Hollywood home of Alec Silverman, a young 28-year old Ted charms and dazzles them with his lush harmonies, fanciful intros, interludes, and endings, swinging walking bass, modulations galore, conversational inner voice movements with counterpoint, breathtaking shimmering waves of harp-harmonics, and a general mastery of the guitar.

Originally recorded on tape, now preserved on digital, it is sure to inspire generations of guitar players.

This recording made available
compliments of Mark Thornbury

